Session Description/ Learning Objectives:	In your organization, your workforce is your most expensive resource. A common factor is that we don't teach those very people H.O.W. to work. We overlook aspects of how individuals and teams approach tasks, priorities, overwhelm, fatigue, distractions, emergencies ... even their internal energy reserves. We fail to teach the brass tacks to allow optimized navigation of obligation. In this session you'll learn the three critical levers that need to exist to have a fully optimized employee, team, and workforce. Learning Objectives: Attendees will be able to identify critical levers to allow optimal execution of key priorities, tasks, and administrative functions. ☐
